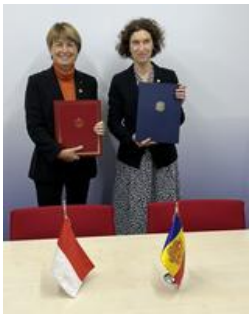
The Principality of Monaco and the Principality of Andorra sign a Bilateral Tax Convention



The Principality of Monaco and the Principality of Andorra sign a Bilateral Tax Convention

A bilateral tax convention, the purpose of which is the elimination of double taxation in taxes and the prevention of fiscal evasion and fraud, has been signed between the Principality of Monaco and the Principality of Andorra.

The Convention was signed by Mrs. Isabelle BERRO-AMADEI, Government Counsellor-Minister of External Relations and Cooperation, and Mrs. Maria UBACH FONT, Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Principality of Andorra, in Lodz on December 1, 2022, on the occasion of the Ministerial Council of the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe (OSCE) in Poland.

This tax agreement, the 37th for Monaco, is the result of constructive negotiations conducted with the aim of the objective of preserving the specificities and interests of both States.

The Principality of Monaco is pleased with the excellence of its ties with the Principality of Andorra which strengthened in recent years, particularly in the context of negotiations with the European Union for the conclusion of an association agreement.

Rencontre entre l'Association des Marchands de Biens et le SICCFIN

25 November 2022

A l'initiative du Président DE LUCA, et dans le cadre de leurs obligations de sensibilisation et de formation à la LCB-FT, Monsieur HUNAULT, Direct... [+]

SICCFIN's Supervision Unit has acquired a new tool, the "STRIX"

22 November 2022

As part of its development, SICCFIN's Supervision Unit has acquired a new tool, "STRIX", in order to formalise and document its risk-base... [+]